

Year 9 Wider Reading Suggestions

Suggestions of books written for teen/young adult readers

We Read

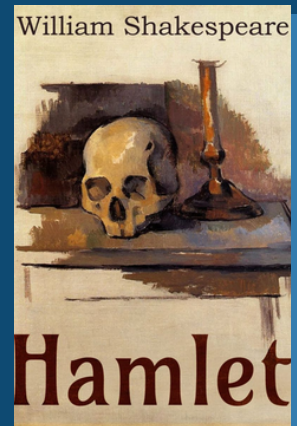

You could read...

- Butterfly Yellow - Thanhha Lai (novel)
A novel about survival and hope in war, set in Vietnam and America
- Private Peaceful (novel and film)
A novel about two brothers and the impact of World War One on them, their family and friends.
- Lovely War - Julie Berry (novel)
Greek gods retell a love story set during World War One.

You could read...

- Saving Hamlet - Molly Booth (novel)
A fun, time travel themed novel about two productions of Hamlet, one in 1601 and one in present day.
- That Way Madness Lies - edited by Dahlia Adler (collection)
A collection of short works by writers putting a modern spin on Shakespeare's greatest stories.

We Read

Suggestions of books written for teen/young adult readers

We Read

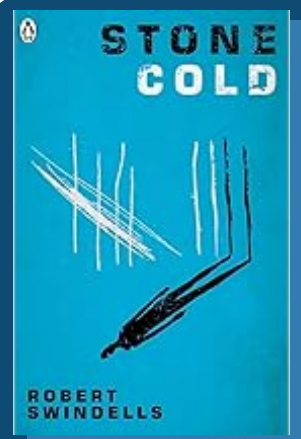

You could read...

- The Breadwinner - Deborah Ellis (novel and film)
A story about a young girl's life in Afghanistan under the Taliban
- Enduring Freedom - Jawad Arash and Trent Reedy (novel)
A YA novel about two young men, an Afghan and an American, in post 9/11 Afghanistan.
- The Hunger Games series - Suzanne Collins (novels and films)
A series about living under an oppressive regime.

You could read...

- May B - Carolyn Starr Rose (novel)
May is abandoned in a harsh Kansas winter and must fight to survive.
- Where I Live - Brenda Rufener
Linden is homeless and secretly sleeps at school at night, until she draws attention to herself by investigating another student's life.
- Hold Fast - Blue Balliet
Homeless teenager Early is determined to investigate her father's disappearance.

We Read

Suggestions of books written for teen/young adult readers

We Read

You could read...

- Their Vicious Games - Joelle Wellington
A working class teenager competes in a dark, Hunger Games style contest for acceptance into a wealthy family.
- Such a Good Liar - Sue Wallman
A modern story of revenge, where a rich family all contributed to the death of a working class woman- and now her daughter has come to make them pay.

For more suggestions, scan here to listen to our Team English Podcast on the Immanuel College YouTube channel/website.